

Test Project

Illustration Design

Graphic Design Technology

Independent Test Project Designer: Wolfgang Toechterle, SCM
Independent Test Project Validator: Karin Fischnaller NL, Robin Gillet FR

Briefing of the project

Introduction

Name of the TP: SILK IN LYON, Festival de la soie

About the event

The 2025 "SILK IN LYON, Festival de la soie" (November 21–24, at Lyon) is an event open to everyone. It delves into the global importance of silk, covering aspects from its traditional origins to the challenges of the modern industry and craftsmanship. This year, the event will feature Brazil's Parana region with 30 exhibitors presenting their products. Attendees can enjoy a rich program that includes workshops, tours, conferences, exhibitions, performances, and off-site events.

Vision

The vision of the 2024 "SILK IN LYON, Festival de la soie" is to serve as a global platform celebrating the cultural richness and innovation of silk.

Mission

The 2024 "SILK IN LYON, Festival de la soie" is dedicated to providing an immersive and educational experience centred around the beauty, history, and versatility of silk. The festival's extensive array of interactive workshops, informative tours, engaging conferences, captivating exhibitions, dynamic performances, and diverse off-site events is designed to foster connections between participants and the artistry, innovation, and cultural importance of silk.

Description of the project

WHAT: Create an illustration to be printed on a silk fabric and design a promotional poster for the "SILK IN LYON, Festival de la soie".

WHY: This project aims to visually communicate the rich tradition and innovation of silk, and to capture the essence of this year's theme "From Brazil to Lyon".

HOW: The designs should be visually compelling and reflect the festival's theme; simultaneously, the poster must clearly convey the event information

